

FEDHEALTH AND TOPMED AMALGAMATION

Here at Fedhealth, we are always actively seeking ways to ensure the future sustainability of the Scheme. And now, one such opportunity for growth has presented itself.

Fedhealth finds itself in the position to absorb Topmed, one of the smaller medical schemes in the industry. A move which will make Fedhealth more secure for your clients.

The Fedhealth and Topmed Boards of Trustees have both approved the amalgamation of the two schemes. If the amalgamation is approved by the Council for Medical Schemes, this new bigger scheme will be known as Fedhealth, and since Topmed will be joining Fedhealth, it will not affect Fedhealth members in any way in terms of options and benefits. The proposed amalgamation does however require member approval from both schemes.

We will shortly be sending your clients a communication in this regard, to request their vote for/against the amalgamation. This communication will also contain a link to a video with more information as well as an infographic.

We look forward to unlocking a future of bigger possibilities as a stronger scheme for all our members!
